Layl McDill = Fun With Clay

Layl McDill

Polymer clay

A collection of our "flowers."

Polymer clay for our use

We learned a little about Layl; who knew she made a full-size buffalo out of clay and found objects?

Then we got hands-on training with the clay as Layl taught us to make "worms" and "blankets" and put them together to create flowers to take home. It was fun learning millefiori technique!

Join Layl and other artists for food and fun on December 7, 11 AM-7 PM at the Flux Arts Building, 2505 Howard St. NE Minneapolis.
